At Country Day, education is an individual pursuit . . .

If instruction is to be meaningful, it must aim at one's immediate personal experience. Facts, whether scientific, historical, or linguistic, are significant only if the student can sense their implications, see their inter-relationships, and realize their application to his own life. Education at Country Day is an individual pursuit, challenging the student to confront his environment, his tradition, and himself.

The serious academic atmosphere which prevails at Country Day functions to instill in each of its students a sense of self-discipline. The ultimate purpose of this discipline is to facilitate intellectual growth in the individual. Skilled instructors develop potential and stimulate interest, but can only lead the student to the brink of his own initiative and ability — the next step he is encouraged to take on his own.

A student at Country Day has the opportunity of forming a close relationship with faculty. His experience, necessarily limited in scope, acquires new perspectives by exposure to teachers who guide him through new academic frontiers. This type of environment serves to spark the inquisitive, capable mind, and to create a sense of academic independence within the individual.

... through our undergraduate years...

The undergraduate years at Country Day mark the time during which the process of individual development finds greatest expression. While gradually acquiring competence in both academics and athletics, the underclassman begins to assume responsibilities embracing all phases of school life, in preparation for the day on which he becomes a Senior.

...emphasizing self-expression through involvement...

In addition to offering a respite from the hectic academic day, the activity and athletic programs foster individual expression through interests which range from weight-lifting to painting. There are no marks, but inspiration and encouragement abound in such rewards as a coach's congratulations or a debate judge's favorable decision.

...culminating in an expanded capacity for further education

More than any other time in his high school career, when a student finally becomes a Senior at Country Day, he begins to reap the benefits sown during his years as a underclassman. The responsibilities which he assumes are often greater than he realizes — he becomes the focus of all school activities, a person to whom the underclassmen look for leadership. It is all a part of his preparation for college, where, like Country Day, education involves more than mere book-learning.

"The first thing education teaches you is to walk alone."

Today, as we look around us and find with increasing alarm that we are in the age of the mass society, we are inclined to wonder to what end an emphasis on individuality serves, an emphasis we experience in our years at Country Day. The answer, to be sure, is not an easy one, but we can perhaps find enlightenment in these words: "The first thing education teaches you is to walk alone."

Headmaster

Mr. Richard A. Schlegel

The Board of Trustees announced the appointment of Mr. Richard A. Schlegel as Headmaster on March 1, 1967. The editors and staff of the Blue and Gold take this opportunity to join with the student body in welcoming Mr. Schlegel in his new capacity.

Mr. Schlegel joined Detroit Country Day School as Assistant Headmaster in June, 1965 after twelve years in administrative and teaching positions in Eastern preparatory schools and universities. In announcing this appointment, F. Alden Shaw, Headmaster Emeritus and President of the Board, said: "The Board of Trustees feel that Mr. Schlegel is eminently qualified to meet the challenges of progress facing Detroit Country Day School and to direct its dynamic growth. He has been active in matters relating to curriculum, student guidance and testing, athletics, administrative structure, and elsewhere in business, finance, and fund-raising. He has also participated in the current and projected building program of the school."

Mr. Schlegel received his A.B. degree from Haverford College in 1948 and his M.A. degree in 1958 from the University of Pennsylvania, at which he is currently a candidate for his Ph.D. He served in Europe with the U.S. Department of State, the American Friends Service Committee, and during World War II was a U.S. naval officer.

Mr. William S. Hokanson

Director of Admissions

Mr. Hokanson came to Country Day in 1965 after teaching at Hebron Academy, a private boy's school in Maine. While at Trinity College in Hartford, where he earned both his B.S. and M.A. degrees, he was admitted to psychology and social science honor societies. Before assuming his present position, he received experience in administrative work as Assistant Admissions Director at the University of Hartford.

Mr. John M. Poplawski

Director of Lower School

Mr. Poplawski's experience in educational and administrative work was obtained in the Detroit area. He attended Wayne State University, where, in addition to participating in Varsity athletics, he was on the Dean's list and was a member of the McKenzie and Omicron Delta Kappa honor societies. His graduate study work on elementary curriculum made him an excellent choice for Director of the Lower School.

Mr. John L. Hannett

Director of Development

Mr. Hannett graduated from Albion College, where he excelled both academically and athletically. He was a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, a national men's leadership society, and was also a small college all-American basketball player. From Albion, he went to Michigan State University where he earned an M.A. in administration and physical education. After teaching at Albion and various Michigan high schools, he came to Country Day in 1963.

In addition to his accounting responsibilities, Mr. Martin teaches an economics course.

The daily business of the school is expertly handled by our secretarial staffs. This job is often unrewarding and forgotten, yet necessary for efficient operation of the school. Bookkeeping, updating student records, welcoming visitors, keeping track of alumni accomplishments, and writing press releases are some of the extra duties in addition to ordinary secretarial work. Our business and office staffs are responsible in great measure for the successful organization and smooth functioning of Country Day.

DCDS Finishes 6th in Rainy Day Invitational

The second annual Invitational Track Meet was one of the most important events to take place in the spring of 1966. A total of twelve schools from different parts of the country came to participate in the meet. An unexpected torrential downpour made the event all the more interesting as the participants had to battle the elements. In spite of the bad weather, all thirteen events were held, and the Invitational turned out to be a great success.

In the team results, Milwaukee University School placed first with a total of  $45\frac{1}{2}$  points, followed by Lake Forest Academy ( $32\frac{1}{2}$ ) and Hawken School ( $29\frac{1}{2}$ ). The Country Day team placed sixth, a fine showing considering the competition they faced. Traditional rival Grosse Pointe University School finished far down in the pack with a mere  $1\frac{1}{2}$  points.

Individually, DCDS took two firsts in the meet. Captain Randy Friedman placed first in the shot put with a fine toss of  $47' \frac{1}{2}"$ , almost five inches ahead of his nearest competitor. Bob Davenport tied for first place in the pole vault competition, clearing the bar at 10 feet. This effort was especially commendable since the rain prevented all but four participants from placing. Although these were the only firsts for DCDS, there were other fine individual performances. In the long jump, Casey McWilliams placed fifth with a leap of  $19' 4"$ . Chuck Connelly also took a fifth spot in the 440 yard dash with a respectable time of 55.3 seconds. The only other points earned for DCDS were accounted for by the 880 yard relay team, which finished fifth with a time of 1:41.7.

For all who attended, the second annual Invitational Track Meet proved to be an exciting and memorable event despite the unfriendly weather.

The Varsity track team had one of its most successful seasons in the history of the school. The squad won their only dual meet, and in six triangular meets recorded two firsts, two seconds, and two thirds. Coach Browne's dedication to the team was instrumental in many of its performances.

1966 was a year of new records for Varsity track. Captain Randy Friedman led the team with an outstanding shot put of 48' 7". Other records were posted in the 440 by Chuck Connelly, in the low hurdles and pole vault by Bob Davenport, and in the high hurdles by Dave Swift. Due to a fine team effort, a new school record was also established in the 880 relay.

The season, which started out by a victory over traditional rivals GPUS and Maumee, ended on a similar note with an 89 to 20 rout over Dryden. Because of the fine coaching staff and abundance of competent underclassmen, the 1967 Varsity track team is expected to continue the winning trend.

The 1966 Varsity baseball team posted a respectable record of nine wins and seven losses. The squad was bolstered by a fine pitching staff and consistent hitting. Mike Milne and Gary Hourihan provided the pitching; Steve Tarczy and Al Sohlin led the hitting.

The bright spots of the season were two victories over the Cranbrook Varsity. The efforts were sparked by a balanced hitting attack and consistent no-error fielding.

The greatest individual effort of the season was a no-hitter pitched by Gary Hourihan over Hartland. Later in the season when Gary developed arm trouble, Mike Milne took over the pitching chores, and in his first outing struck out eight Ortonville batters in a four-hit, 6-1 victory. Despite the loss of these Seniors, however, the Varsity baseball team appears to be in good hands for the 1967 season.

Although the Varsity tennis team did not have a winning season last year, several fine individual performances sparked the seven matches. The team's best showing was a 4-1 victory over Maumee Valley Country Day. Number one singles Mike Meyer won six of seven matches during the season, and also reached the semi-finals of the state regionals, losing to last year's state champion. The entire team remains intact for the '67 season and should fare much better.

Golfers have abbreviated season

Last year, the Varsity golf team was hampered by lack of facilities and bad weather. The squad had only two matches, but was unable to defeat either opponent. The match with John Glenn, however, was lost by a single stroke.

Dave Harris, the team's best golfer, made a fine showing in the state regionals when he shot an 81 and finished in the top ten. Underclassmen also proved their worth in several outstanding performances. In practice sessions, Bob Spiegel missed a hole-in-one by two inches, and Dean Friedman parred four consecutive holes. Jack Epps and Jim Brunstad were also very consistent golfers, and they played many fine rounds. In evaluating the 1966 golf team, it of course must be remembered that it was greatly hampered by lack of playing time.

The warm temperature and cloudless afternoon skies provided near-perfect conditions for the outdoor graduation of the Class of 1966.

The two honored guests at the Commencement were both alumni of Country Day: Mr. Jay T. Robinson, class of '33, and Dr. Oliver W. Burke, class of '27. Mr. Robinson was presented an Outstanding Alumnus Award for his achievement as an artist. Since his graduation from Yale, his paintings have been exhibited in one-man showings in Louisville, Dayton, Detroit, and New York. At the Commencement exercises, Mr. Robinson presented the school with one of his recent paintings.

Dr. Burke, organizer and director of a Florida research company, spoke to the Class of '66 on "Research and Opportunity." In reviewing the amazing scientific discoveries over the past four decades, he told the graduates:

"To me, science of today and tomorrow is opportunity on a scale almost unthinkable, as was a trip to the moon when I studied at Country Day. Research and development has its roots in the educational background of the researchers and the research planners, and this background includes their primary and secondary school education as well as their university training . . . Curiosity and love of science are the most important mental requirements for research . . . To the ambitious person today — opportunity is unlimited."

Student leadership manifests itself in many ways.
The Presidents of the Prefect Board and Senior Class

The Senior Class discovers that what goes up . . .

. . . must come down.

STEVEN BRUCE ACKERMAN

A rugged competitor, Steve captained the soccer team and excelled as a hockey lineman. As a member of the Blue & Gold staff and Vice-President of the Senior Class, he showed a deep interest in the school and a genuine concern for others.

CHRISTOPHER TODD ANGLE

Affable but unassuming, Chris faced all the problems of schoolwork and extra-curricular activities calmly. As goalie of the soccer team, he provided an effective last line of defense.

TIMOTHY ALLEN BAUGHMAN

Tim was perhaps the greatest contributor to Country Day's recent supremacy in basketball. His incredible accuracy from the corners unnerved many opposing players. In addition to his athletic ability, Tim maintained a fine academic average and was a frequent member of the honor roll.

RUDOLF BYRON BECKER

Rudy's ferocity as a lineman in football and as a defenseman in hockey has made him one of the athletic mainstays of the Senior class. His dry wit and sarcastic flair never failed to amuse other Seniors, to whom he appropriately came to be known as "The Dude."

CHARLES VICTOR BOOTH III

An unassuming member of the Senior Class, Chuck contributed primarily on the athletic field. As a defensive halfback on the football team, he was instrumental in thwarting opponent's aerial attacks.

MICHAEL ALAN BORIN

As Business Manager of the Blue & Gold, Mike solicited advertisements and supervised fund-raising. He also showed a deep concern for others by participating in the Service Club. In addition, he proved to be a valuable member of both the soccer and tennis teams.

RICHARD DAVID COLMAN

Superb literary and organizational ability made Rick a natural choice for editor of the Blue & Gold. The confidence of his classmates in him was evidenced by his election as class secretary-treasurer all four of his high school years. Rick also proved to be a valuable member of both the football and hockey teams.

CHARLES EDWARD CONNELLY

Chuck's warm, mild mannered personality won the friendship of every member of the Senior Class. He was always quick to volunteer his house for preparation of the Homecoming floats, and even quicker at obtaining construction materials. He is best remembered, however, for his outstanding contributions to the football and track teams.

WILLIAM RINEHART COOPER

Because of his poetic flair and intellectual demeanor, Bill was unofficially dubbed Poet Laureate of the Senior Class. As a stalwart member of the Detroit Service Club, he evinced a deep interest in the less fortunate members of our society.

JOSEPH ROBERT HILARY
CUNNINGHAM

Entering Country Day in his Senior year, Joe was limited in the number of activities in which he participated. His performances on the Varsity football team and his good academic record demonstrated a determination to succeed that typified the school's motto.

ROBERT WILEY DAVENPORT

The tenor of Bob's long Country Day career has been athletic. Winning Varsity letters since his freshman year in football, basketball, and track, he provided able and enthusiastic leadership for every team on which he participated.

WILLIAM LAWRENCE DIEFENBACH

Although quiet and reserved, Bill quickly won friends following his entrance into Country Day as a Senior. Other members of the highly competitive calculus and physics classes were constantly aware of his academic prowess; his performance in these classes is prophetic of success in his chosen career as an architect.

JACK EPPS, JR.

Jack manifested his interest in student government as Vice-President of the Junior class and as Prefect in his Senior year. He tempered his academic attitude with sarcastic good humor, and performed well as co-captain of the Varsity soccer team and four-year starting goalie on the Varsity hockey team.

RICHARD TODD FENTON

A quick wit, social savoir-faire, and a red convertible make up Rick's secret of success. He will probably best be remembered for the artistic flair with which he narrated the details of his weekends. In addition, Rick was a valuable member of the Varsity football team since his Sophomore year.

DAVID H. GROSSMAN

Dave was one of the quieter, more conscientious members of the Senior Class. In both his Junior and Senior years he continually achieved high scholastic averages and was more than once a member of the "Big Three." His exceptional abilities found an outlet on both the yearbook staff and model United Nations delegation.

EDWARD JOHN HRUSOVSKY

Ed's election as most valuable member of the wrestling team was the reward for his perseverance and prowess. Co-captain and winningest wrestler in both his Junior and Senior years, he always finished high in state wrestling competition. His great singing ability contributed significantly to the Yellowjackets.

JAMES JAY KOCH

Good-natured and liked by all, Jim was one of the more popular members of the Senior class; his high-pitched laugh was extremely contagious, and never failed to brighten up the Senior lounge at otherwise dull moments. Always the type who tries his hardest, Jim came to be a valuable member of the football team.

WILLIAM BRENT INCE

Although he attended Country Day for the first time in his Senior year, Bill came to be liked by his classmates and highly respected for his scholastic achievement. His participation in the physics and calculus classes was characterized by innate intuitiveness and expert ability.

MICHAEL DAVID MEYER

One of the finest athletes in the class, Mike excelled on the hockey rink and tennis court. Through hard work and leadership, he became captain, high scorer, and most valuable player of the hockey team in both his Junior and Senior years. As number one singles on the tennis team, he rarely lost a match.

PAUL HENRY MILLER

Another of the fine athletes of the Senior Class, Paul demonstrated his athletic ability both as a fullback on the soccer team and second singles player on the tennis team. But his greatest show of ability was on the basketball court, where in his Junior year, he won the most valuable player trophy at the Maumee Tournament.

THOMAS A. MISCH

Tom's school spirit was readily displayed whenever the occasion warranted it, usually as a cheerleader at pep rallies. His great musical talents which were displayed in his band found an outlet at school in his active participation in the Yellowjackets.

MITCHELL GENE MOFFAT

Although at times nurturing a pessimistic outlook on life, Mitch's combination of tenacious nonconformity and subtle humor never failed to amuse other Seniors. He evidenced tremendous academic ability, especially in the physics and calculus classes.

DENNIS JAMES MORSE

Probably more than any other Senior, Dennis evinced a genuine concern for the school and its students. The trust which his classmates had in him was illustrated by his re-election as a Prefect every year since his Freshman term; showing extreme capability as Secretary-Treasurer of the Board his Junior year, he was the unanimous choice for President in his Senior year.

JAMES MATT NUNN

Matt's warm personality and easy-going aloofness won him many friends since he first came to Country Day in his Junior year. He will be well remembered for his contribution to the football team as a starting wingback and crushing tackler, despite the many chalk talks he missed during the pre-season camp.

ROGER JAMES PEVEN

Roger's diversified talents and keen sense of humor made him an interesting member of the Senior Class. His extra-curricular involvement was divided between the Blue & Gold and Detroit Service Club. He will be well remembered for his ability to find humor among an uninteresting day's proceedings.

THOMAS MELVILLE RINEHART

Winner of the History Book Award in his Junior year, Tom is well known for his recall power. As both an offensive and defensive starter on the football team, he contributed greatly toward the team's most successful season. Yet none can forget his famous invulnerable stomach, claimed to be the hardest this side of the Rockies.

STEVEN LEE SCHNEIDER

Steve's class-leading math ability and aptitude won him the Math Book Award his Junior year. Also a distinguished science student, his interest and perseverance were manifested in the perfection of his laboratory techniques. Overall, he was always at or near the top of the class in scholastic standings.

JAMES DEWART SONDA

Dynamic and personable, Jamie distinguished himself both academically and athletically. Always near the top of the class scholastic standings, he was one of the few Juniors elected to the Cum Laude Society. He also was an integral member of both the wrestling and track teams.

CHARLES LUMAN SPICER

Charlie's profound interest in automobiles was attested to by the latest issue of Hot Rod which could always be found in his briefcase. In school he evidenced great academic aptitude.

CHARLES FRANK STILEC

Co-captain of the finest football team in our school's history and a great wrestler, Chuck provided able and enthusiastic leadership. On the field, "the Bear" proved that drive, spirit, and brute strength is an unbeatable combination.

JAMES CRAIG STRAITH

Jamie's easy-going facade soon vanished when he stepped onto the wrestling mat. Co-captain of the team in his Junior year, he and his fellow grapplers were responsible for the student body's vastly increased interest and participation in the sport.

DAVID DALE SWIFT

Dave's domineering height made him an outstanding member of the basketball team and a record-setting high-hurdler on the track team. His boisterous character and loud voice provided him with the unique quality of being able to evoke school spirit from students of all ages.

JOHN MATTHEW THOMAS II

Matt's impeccable taste in mod clothing combined with his unique ability on the bass guitar to make him one of the most interesting members of the Senior class. He will be well remembered for the appetizing quality of his music which pervaded the gym during the Pancake Supper.

ROBERT DOUGLAS TURNER

Doug's athletic ability, flair for leadership, and spirited, gregarious attitude was demonstrated in several ways. In addition to being President of the Senior class, he was captain of the Varsity football and wrestling teams.

ROBERT ARNOLD VERMEULEN

Bob's amiable, easy-going personality and splendid array of fine sports cars won him many friends and admirers. His athletic achievements included participation in Varsity football, hockey and track.

JOHN WINEMAN

John's remarkable facility and interest in the Spanish language found an outlet in the Sociedad Espanola. Cooperative and eager to please, he was best known for his generosity and ever-ready sense of humor.

Mr. Richard L. Larson

As Athletic Director, Mr. Larson had many new responsibilities this year. In addition to maintaining numerous schedules, he proved to be the catalyst that our football team needed to compile their fine 7-1 record. His contagious enthusiasm urged forth Country Day's teams to victory. Although burdened by his many responsibilities, he was always sought after by students in need of aid or encouragement.

The greatest single asset of our athletic policy is the opportunity given to all students to participate on various levels, according to their individual abilities and desires. The Middler and Junior Varsity teams, although sometimes overshadowed by Varsity competition, provide physical activity for a large number of participants. At the Varsity level, in addition to the ultimate goal of producing physically fit students, Country Day has developed a winning tradition which consistently receives spirited support from the student body. No matter what the event or location, there is always a Country Day cheering section in attendance to attest to the "New Spirit" that has become an established part of our athletic program.

When nineteen boys showed up for the first week of pre-season football camp, no one would have guessed that this group would provide the nucleus of the best football team in Country Day history. Yet that is exactly what happened. After dropping the first contest to Columbus Academy by an 18-6 margin, the squad refused to let its spirit diminish, and showed it in the next game by defeating Pontiac Christian 27-0. Following a Friday afternoon pep rally, the team exhibited its greatest show of spirit all season on the next day by breaking Hawken's ten-game winning streak in a close 13-12 battle. After experiencing no trouble against the Pontiac Central Reserves, the team looked ahead to the four toughest games of the season. But the winning enthusiasm was never allowed to die, and the squad consecutively downed the three greatest rivals Park, Maumee, and GPUS. Then, on a cold and wet Saturday afternoon in Niagara Falls, New York, the Varsity football team fittingly closed out its best season ever with a 39-0 rout over DeVeaux.

The Varsity soccer team had probably the most demanding schedule in Varsity sports this year, and the squad fared well considering the opponents they faced. Since soccer has been played at the Varsity level for a mere two years, it was quite a task to play teams such as Cranbrook and Bloomfield Hills, who have been playing soccer for many years.

Although the team played well in all of their games, three contests in particular were outstanding performances. The squad shutout a highly regarded Park team 5-0 in a heavy rainstorm. In this game, the left wing Nabil Sayed scored four goals in an incredible performance. After being shutout 4-0 in their first contest with Bloomfield Hills, the team bounced back to hold the powerful Bloomfield squad to a scoreless tie in the second game. In the last contest of the season, the team completely overpowered DeVeaux School 7-2 with Phil Fisher scoring three goals.

All the players contributed to the team's victories, but special credit must be given to Captain Steve Ackerman, Nabil Sayed, and Paul Miller for their consistently fine play.

This year's Varsity basketball team was probably the most successful team ever assembled at Country Day. Mr. Hannett's squad ran roughshod over all but two regular season opponents to compile a fine 14-2 record. However, these first sixteen games were merely a preface to the outstanding play exhibited in the State Tournament.

The team entered the tournament with an aura of confidence and enthusiasm shared by players and students alike. After drawing a first round bye in the district competition, the team won its first game handily by crushing Our Lady of Sorrows 91-66. In the championship game, the results were similar: a well-earned 54-45 victory over Orchard Lake St. Mary.

The team announced its entrance into regional competition by solidly trouncing Lansing Boys' Training School, 81-56. In the second contest the squad emerged victorious again, beating Capac 75-54. The championship game was a bitter struggle with Flint St. Michael in which Country Day won its first regional title since 1946, defeating the opponent 70-59. In a hard-fought quarterfinal contest, the team let up in its consistently fine play enough to let a highly rated Detroit All Saints team slip by, 58-52. For the outstanding season which produced two trophies and an overall 19-3 record, special commendation should go to Coach John Hannett.

Although the record of the Varsity hockey team was not spectacular, the players must be commended for overcoming several handicaps. Not only were six Seniors lost from last year's squad, but the bulk of the team was made up of young, inexperienced players who took time adjusting to the tempo of Varsity play. The team had its ups and downs, but managed to compile a fine, 12-9-1 record.

There were many outstanding team performances. Two wins over both Brother Rice and Dearborn were especially exciting games. In all four of these contests, goalie Jack Epps repeatedly staved off the opponent's attack. 8-2 and 4-0 victories over Madison Heights and a 6-0 whitewash of GPUS were a convincing display of the team's potent offense.

The team was lead by a core of four players who must be commended for their fine play: Captain Mike Meyer provided the bulk of the scoring, Steve Ackerman exhibited constant hustle and determination, goalie Jack Epps was almost unbeatable in the nets, and John Bromley was a never-tiring defenseman.

The success of this year's Varsity wrestling team can be attributed to the dedication of a handful of wrestlers who devoted a great deal of time and energy to the sport. Even the 9-6 record does not adequately reflect the determination which was displayed. It seems certain, however, that the squad would not have performed as well had it not been for the fine coaching of Mr. Campbell.

The outstanding performances of the year were especially gratifying, for they came in contests with traditional rivals GPUS and Maumee. In a hard-fought battle with Maumee, the team emerged victorious, 36-11. In their two encounters with GPUS, the squad crushed their opponents 56-0 and 53-8.

Several individuals performed well in the State Tournament in Lansing. Jamie Sonda and Robbie Dow both took a fourth place while Bill Diefenbach and Mike Dornan narrowly missed earning a medal.

Le Cercle Francais

The purpose of the French Club is to further student's knowledge of French Culture. To promote the club, several French films were shown and guest speakers talked to the group. Popular and classic French music was presented on occasions. Le Cercle Francais was directed by Mr. Farber, who also took a group of Country Day students to France last summer. To sample French cuisine, students ate at a French restaurant in Detroit. Next year, the French Club hopes to broaden its scope of French culture by increasing its activities.

Espanola

This club of students is dedicated to research, not only in the Spanish language, but into the nature and character of Spanish speaking people. The newly-formed society hopes to show films of Spain and Latin America, to have visits by Spanish speaking individuals, to read and discuss contemporary Spanish Literature, and to view and comment on Spanish art. Probing beyond the classroom is the means; discovering the attitudes of the civilization is the result.

Model United Nations Delegation

The model United Nations program helped students appreciate the functions of the real United Nations organization by participation in simulated versions of actual assemblies. The group had sessions at the University of Detroit High School in which they took part in the Nigeria, Cambodia, and Finland delegations. As delegates, they had the responsibilities of knowing and understanding the foreign policies of their respective nations, as well as United Nations procedures. By sticking closely to the format of the actual world organization, our students gained insight into the workings of the United Nations, and its goals and problems in maintaining world peace.

Detroit Service Club

The Detroit Service Club made its debut at Country Day this year, and the response towards the activity was encouraging. A large group of students readily volunteered their Saturday mornings to tutor underprivileged children of the Harris Elementary School in Detroit. The purpose of the program was not only to teach, but to become a "big brother" to boys deprived of many things usually taken for granted. With the aid of a small appropriation by the Detroit Board of Education, the group was able to travel to the Detroit Historical Museum and the Detroit News Building, as well as to Tiger Stadium for a baseball game. Hopefully, this type of community volunteer work will become a tradition at Country Day.

Mu Alpha Theta

Making its official debut at Country Day this year, the math club immediately demonstrated its invention and originality by its choice of a name — "Mu Alpha Theta," signifying the letters of the word "math." New members were initiated into the club by presenting an original math project. Through the generosity of the Federal-Mogul Corporation, the club members had access to the Burroughs computer facilities and enthusiastically started a computer-study program, which dominated the club's activities throughout much of the year.

History of Art Club

The objective of this club is to give its members a greater understanding and deeper appreciation of art throughout the ages. By studying the art of the past, the members built a foundation of art knowledge which will always be useful to them. In order to study techniques and styles, the club sponsored trips to nearby museums, showed slides, reviewed textbooks, and invited practicing artists, all in the interest of broadening its members' cultural vistas.

The Spectrum staff

Under the direction of a new faculty advisor, Mr. Murphy, the Spectrum changed the focus of its editorial policy to include only articles of distinct literary merit, such as short stories, poetry, and essays. The change was effected because of the need for an outlet for the students' creative abilities, a need that remained unfulfilled in previous years. The results, tangible if not prolific, indicated the great potential for such a publication, and staff members hold great expectations for future issues.

Blue and Gold

The Blue & Gold of 1967 was aimed at capturing the spirit of the year, preserving rapidly forgotten moments, and retaining pictorial records of the school, its events, and students. The Science Projects Group was another of the newly-created clubs this year. Although there has always been some sort of science club, this year's participants were afforded more time, better facilities, and were encouraged to pursue their own fields of interest. The club was generally divided into two groups: a photography club, whose members developed, printed, and enlarged their own photographs; and an individual studies group, whose experiments ranged from physics to electronics.

Debate

Joe Falik, Jay Bolter

Under the skilled direction of Coach Roger Round, the debate team finished third in class C-D competition this year. The proposition for debate was "Resolved: that the foreign aid program of the United States should be limited to non-military assistance." The Varsity affirmative consisted of Jay Bolter and Joe Falik; the negative, of Chris Knight and Bernard Winograd. These students spent many hours in preparation and competition and the admirable results reflect their efforts.

The non-Varsity debaters represented the school in the Detroit Area Novice Debate League, and acquired valuable experience in preparation for next year's Varsity competition.

Prefect Board

The Prefect Board is the students' representative to the Headmaster, through which the attitudes, concerns, and needs of the student body are expressed. In recent years, however, the Board's primary function has been to promote student participation in all phases of school life. This year, the Board succeeded in publishing a student handbook which put together into one volume all the previously unwritten information essential to incoming students. In another case, the prefects initiated a jacket sale, the profits from which paid for almost half of the new bleachers. And finally, none can forget the cheerful efficiency with which the Board ran concession stands at numerous athletic contests. In terms of a long-range goal, the Prefect Board is presently in the process of raising money to bring a foreign exchange student to Country Day.

D Club

"Hip! Hip! . . ."
Dave Swift

The D Club is an elite organization chiefly concerned with promoting school spirit, which its members believe is essential for our teams to compete at their highest level. Club requirements include a good academic record, a significant contribution to the school's athletic program, and recognized leadership on one or more of the teams. In addition, students must have won at least three letters in one sport or two letters in different sports prior to acceptance.

Honor Roll

The rewards for academic achievement are probably not as great as those for athletic ability. In order to give the scholar his deserved credit, the Honor Roll offers recognition for academic excellence. Being on the Honor Roll represents a personal rather than team accomplishment — the reward for six weeks of hard work and self-sacrifice in order to maintain a consistent B average or better. And whereas for those who achieve it the Honor Roll is a reward, to other determined students, it serves as a goal.

DETROIT COUNTRY DAY SCHOOL BIRMINGHAM QUIZ 'EM

Although the Quiz-Em team was not victorious this year, they made a fine showing against a well-prepared Cranbrook team. The group was composed of Seniors Rick Colman, Steve Schneider, and Mike Meyer, and Juniors Chris Hunt and Bernard Winograd, and was coached by Mr. Round. Plagued by stage fright, the Country Day team fell behind early and was staging a comeback when time ran out. The contest was extremely close in the final moments as indicated by the final 680-610 score. Country Day was rewarded for its fine effort with an AM-FM radio.

A Tribute

The Senior Class wishes to express its appreciation for the contributions which Dr. W. Rodman Snelling has made to our school. In a short period of five years, he created a new campus for Country Day. Under his leadership the fiftieth anniversary capital campaign was launched, the result of which is our new Learning Center.

In announcing Dr. Snelling's resignation as Headmaster, Mr. F. Alden Shaw, Headmaster Emeritus and President of the Board of Trustees, said: "We are grateful to Dr. Snelling for his years of dedicated service to Detroit Country Day School, its students, trustees, parents, faculty, and alumni. He has done an outstanding job of developing the school and building an excellent organization to administer it."

The Senior Class wishes Dr. and Mrs. Snelling a happy year of relaxation and a successful future.

Acknowledgements

The 1967 Blue and Gold has been an experience in the making. We of the staff are confident that it is the best yearbook ever offered by a Senior class at Country Day.

The work has been tedious, and the efforts of many people are contained in the final product. At this time, the yearbook staff would like to thank in particular the following people, without whose indulgent assistance this publication would not have been possible:

The Modern Yearbook Company
Mrs. Lorraine Suprunowicz
Mrs. Cathy Arcure

Bill Williams Studios
Miss Peggy Churchill
Mr. Gordon Sturos

Epilog

Education, especially of the quality which we receive at Country Day, is a building process — the development of an individual. In June of 1967, thirty-six Seniors will have passed forth into the next phase of construction. And so will each succeeding class some day graduate, and in doing so will be reminded of the fact that a crowd is but a collection of individuals.
